DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-18 and 34 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 and 14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,221,425 and claims 1-17 of U.S. Patent No. 6,656,517. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other. While grouped together in different ways, the limitations of the instant application are present throughout the claims of the patents.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 1762

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

4. The rejection of claims 1-3, 5, 7, 11-12, 15-17 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cahalan et al. (US Pat. 5,607,475) has been withdrawn in light of Applicant's amendments and statements.

5. Claims 1-12, 15-17, 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Michal et al. (U.S. 6,287,285 B1).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Regarding claims 1-3, 11, 16-17, and 34, Michal et al. teach a method of immobilizing heparin, an anti-thrombogenic agent, to an implantable medical device, such as a stent. A base coat is applied to and polymerized on the device to which the heparin is attached via functional groups. Regarding claim 4, the base coat of Michal comprises a grafting material, binding material, photoinitiator, and a solvent. The binding component of Michal may be an amine or aldehyde group, such as cinnamaldehyde, as required in claims 5-6, and the grafting component may be polyurethane acrylate, as required in claims 7-8. The stent coating is polymerized by irradiating with UV light for 8 minutes, as required by claim 9. The solvent of Michal may be ketone compounds or water, as required by claims 10 and 12. Regarding claims 15, the binding component of Michal may be an amine which is the functional group required by Applicant in his specification to meet the definition of "end immobilization". (See abstract; col. 2, lines 15-30, 55-57; col. 4, line 7; col. 6, lines 55-65; col. 7, lines 30-35, 59, and 67; col. 8; col. 10, line 55-col. 11, line 15; col. 13, lines 22-28; Example 4.)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9. The rejections of claims 14 and 18 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cahalan et al. have been withdrawn in light of Applicant's amendments and arguments.

10. The rejection of claims 14 and 18 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Michal et al. has been withdrawn in light of Applicant's statement of common ownership.

11. The rejections of claim 13 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Cahalan or Michal in view of Hughes et al. have been withdrawn in light of Applicant's amendments and/or arguments and statement of common ownership, respectively.
